BRYAN AND TAMMI BUILD A LEGACY WITH TRIVITA

Building a life together in beautiful Colorado

Bryan and Tammi's TriVita success has allowed them to relocate their entire family to Colorado Springs

It all began with a vision. Bryan and Tammi Wirth were attending a TriVita Affiliate Member event in 2007 at the Broadmoor Resort in Colorado Springs, Colorado. They strolled out to the patio and witnessed the awe-inspiring view of Pike's Peak in the distance. The couple turned to each other and said, "This is amazing. Wouldn't it be great to live here someday with our entire family?"

Most people would let the dream evaporate and get back to reality, but that's not Bryan and Tammi's style. They realized that they had all the tools in front of them to make their dreams come true. They were further inspired by Michael Ellison's speech at the same event where he encouraged attendees to identify and act upon their life purposes. Michael also mentioned the "Law of Expression," which encourages you to express your desires verbally and take the all-important first step to making those desires a reality.

A life-changing decision

Bryan and Tammi at that very moment decided that they would build a family legacy with TriVita that would involve their entire family in achieving health and wealth. "We wanted to teach the same principles we learned from Michael Ellison and pass them on to our adult daughters and grandchildren," Bryan states. "We encouraged them to take control of their own destiny."

Both daughters were totally "on board" because they saw firsthand how happy their parents were with TriVita as Affiliate Members. They were equally impressed by the up-to-the-minute tools available, including video emails and social networking sites that allowed them to easily reach out on their own schedule to “tech-savvy” friends and prospects. Now both sons-in-law are also actively engaged in working the business.

Paradise in the Rockies

Just a few years after Michael’s inspiring speech, Bryan and Tammi’s dreams have come true. Thanks to their flourishing TriVita business and a very focused effort, they were able to make the move from Oregon into a spacious Colorado Springs home. “Not only has TriVita provided full-time income for Tammi and me, but also for our two daughters and their families,” Bryan says. “This income has allowed our children and grandchildren to join us from various parts of the country and purchase their own homes in Colorado Springs.” Now the entire family is together once and for all and Tammi and Bryan couldn’t be more thrilled. Their two grown daughters are able to stay home with their children full-time while easily managing their TriVita business – truly a dream come true.

Bryan seizes an opportunity

Bryan and Tammi have gone far with TriVita, but their first introduction to the company was quite modest. Back in 2001 Bryan first heard a radio commercial for TriVita’s Sublingual B-12 and was intrigued. He wrote down TriVita’s number, but then lost it. Luckily, a few days later he got a call from a friend who told him about a new line of nutritional products from a company called TriVita. At first, he dismissed it thinking that it would be like the other direct sales companies he encountered that didn’t work out.

But something about TriVita seemed different, so he decided to visit the company’s headquarters in Scottsdale, Arizona, and meet with the management team. Bryan quickly realized that this was the opportunity he was waiting for and decided to become an Affiliate Member. “I really liked the fact that I wouldn’t have to rely on just word-of-mouth-advertising,”

Bryan says. “Instead, I would be able to acquire customers through TV and radio advertising. I knew their system would work because it had worked on me. I was also burned out and tired of building someone else’s dream in the corporate arena. I wanted to work with my wife, Tammi, to build our dream and control our time... now I finally had a way to do it.” Bryan and Tammi also credit Senior Vice President, Marcus Ellison, for giving them powerful tools to build their business.

After just 16 months with TriVita, the couple accomplished their short-term goal of a full-time income that allowed Bryan to retire from his job in the corporate world. They’ve been financially independent ever since and can live life on their own terms. Bryan and Tammi were also honored to be TriVita’s first Presidential Directors – the highest level in the career advancement path of the Affiliate Member Program.

Tremendous product experience

Bryan and Tammi are thrilled with their financial success with TriVita. However, they are just as enthusiastic about the products that have dramatically improved their health. They both ran a marathon in 2004 that really took a toll on their bodies. Afterwards, Bryan had chronic hip pain and had to give up running. Tammi also suffered from knee pain. When Nopalea™ came out, they started taking it without knowing what to expect. Within 9 to 10 days Bryan said to Tammi, “My hip doesn’t hurt anymore.” Tammi also noticed that her knees no longer hurt when she ran.

Even more remarkable was Tammi’s experience with Adaptogen 10 Plus®. Three years ago she had two major back-to-back surgeries. Tammi started taking Adaptogen 10 Plus immediately after her surgeries, and her team of doctors and nurses were amazed by her fast recovery.

Fulfilling their life purposes

Bryan and Tammi truly feel blessed by life. They have the financial freedom they always dreamed about, greater wellness and the time to enjoy life’s many pleasures. Bryan and Tammi are able to give to their church, charitable organizations and other worthwhile causes.

They are especially proud of the many other people who have advanced in their organization. Currently, six people have become Presidential Directors and over 100 people have advanced to the Director level. Those numbers keep increasing by the week.

So, now Bryan and Tammi can see spectacular Pike’s Peak whenever they want. “Our TriVita business was providing a very comfortable lifestyle,” Tammi says. “Then Michael Ellison challenged us to search deep within ourselves to pursue our life’s purposes. And that’s when we decided to build a family legacy that will benefit our family for many years to come.” V
